Save money on your business energy in 2021

Follow our 5 top tips to make sure you save energy and money for your business throughout lockdown and beyond.

Whether you remain open, are working remotely or are ready to re-open, we can help you to make crucial savings by following simple steps and our 5 top tips.

During lockdown, 1 in 6 customers will have fallen into out-of-contract rates which are up to 80% more expensive! Check your energy contract end dates or send a bill to us to check for you.

It may sound obvious, but if your business is largely working from home, check your office appliances are not using energy unnecessarily - especially those left on standby. Also, make sure your heating or AC isn't set on a timer for regular office hours if it doesn't need to be.

Submit a meter reading to stop estimated billing (which could be much higher than the true figures) and allow suppliers to bill you at the reduced usage for the last few months.

See if you can save money with a lower priced fixed tariff – you may even be able to do this by switching contract mid-term.

If you are using less energy, think about switching to a low or zero standing charge tariff. You will then only pay for what you use rather than a fixed amount.
